e_procure & supply 2008

The e_procure & supply fair was founded in 2001 from the BME in cooperation with the Nürnberg Messe GmbH. Attached to the branch crossing trade fair is a special conference with topics related to internet-based supply and logistics solutions and integrated supplier relationship management systems. The conference has established itself as a forum for procurement and IT-managers and their partner organizations.

Most visitors of the e_procure & supply conference are interested in subjects like procurement tools (e.g. supplier catalog), future concepts for supply chain management, procurement software as well as procurement- and process consulting.
