Expand your market research beyond borders, through public procurement workshops that promote exchange on a regional and local level.

We want to raise awareness of the procurement opportunities across national borders, even below the thresholds. The workshops focus on the exchange of information and identification of opportunities for contracting public authorities in different areas such as regional market analysis and exchange of good practices. We want to foster the participation of SMEs, allowing them to look for business opportunities across borders. The workshops bring together various stakeholders from different Member States/border regions and help improve public procurement through the cooperation between regions and municipalities of the Member States.
